COWLEY HAPPENINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Billie Tustian, of Natal, B. C. were week end visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tustian here.

Mrs. Griffith Parry, teacher of the junior room of the village school was confined to her home through illness this week, the pupils thereby taking an enforced few days vacation.

Mrs. Helen Swart has gone to DeWinton owing to the illness of her daughter, Mrs. Norman Horning.

Louis Pitiot who purchased the house on the old T. J. Cooper place two miles north of here, moved the building into Cowley this week, setting it on a lot in the east part of the village. Gossip has it that there is a wedding approaching.

On Thursday afternoon, February 27th, Mrs. Kenneth Martin was feted under the auspices of the Ladies of the United Church when a number of friends gathered at the home of Mrs. Arthur Tustian to do her homage in presenting her a farewell party and presenting her with a lovely combination silver cake plate and relish dish. In spite of cold weather, lowering clouds and bad roads the turn-out was very good, the house barely accommodating the crowd. A sumptuous luncheon was served with Mrs. Wm. Cochrane and Mrs. A. M. Murphy pouring.

The Union Sunday school held a farewell party for Donald, Dale, Clare and Rae Martin on Friday evening, February 28th. Entertainment took the form of a couple of hours skating followed by an appetizing luncheon in the Maanin hall when the four honored guests were given each a present after which merry-making was resumed with playing games. The party was well attended by both pupils and parents. The Martin children have attended this Sunday school for 8 years and will be greatly missed and the best of good wishes is extended to them in their new home at Spring Coulee.

A farewell party, sponsored by the local Maanin lodge was held in their hall here on Saturday night, March 1st, for Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Martin who are leaving together with their family of four children to make their home in Spring Coulee. Entertainment took the form of cards, progressive whist being in order with honors being captured by ladies first Mrs. T. R. Jones, consolation Mrs. A. Wande, Genis first Hector Lemire, consolation Kenneth Martin. Following a tasty luncheon the honor guests were presented with a purse of money with Harry Smyth, acting master of ceremonies on behalf of the people, made the presentation when Mr. Martin expressed his thanks with well chosen words. An hour's dancing concluded a very enjoyable evening. Music was supplied by Bobby Cochrane at the piano.

AN APPEAL TO THE CITIZENS OF BLAIRMORE

Over the radio and through the press Canadians are asked to support the annual Red Cross drive for a very large sum of money to carry on the activities of Peace.

For the stricken countries of Europe all supplies of clothing, etc., held in the warehouses of the Society and all shipment of supplies at sea are being turned over for relief immediately. In Canada the program to establish an adequate blood bank and other forms of aid for which the Red Cross has always labored will be pressed vigorously.

Blairmore supported the cause so magnificently during the years of war—city on for peace. Don't wait for a solicitor for your subscription. The Royal Bank will accept it and give the official receipt. Payment may also be made to Mrs. J. B. Harmer or Mrs. J. R. Smith.

DISTRICT SPIEL RESULTS

Play in the district Pontiac-Studebaker-Cole bout finally concluded on Sunday. Here are the results from the four:

FORMER POPULAR SINGER RETURNS

Sgt. Edgar Rhys of the 1st Battalion, Royal Canadian Engineers, has returned to Calgary for his discharge from the forces after seven and a half years service, of which six and a half years was spent overseas in England, France, Belgium and Germany.

Before enlisting at Calgary in the 18th Field Coy. RCE, on Oct. 10 1939, Sgt. Rhys was prominent in local musical circles and was a well known tenor. He resided here for 10 years prior to enlisting and plans to make his future home in the city.

His mother and brothers reside at Blairmore and he will be the last of six brothers who served with the Canadian forces to be discharged.

He left England on Jan. 6 on the Aquitania, the last official troopship to carry forces back to Canada.—Calgary Herald.

Sgt. Rhys is expected to pay a visit with relatives in Blairmore shortly.

PERPETUAL SABBATH

There is a perpetual Sabbath on this earth. The Greeks observe Monday, the Persians Tuesday, Assyrians Wednesday, Egyptians Thursday, Turks Friday, Jews Saturday, and the Christians Sunday.—Savannah Rotary.

CHEW SLOWLY

Only such creatures as ostriches can afford to "gobble" food. Doctors warn that thorough chewing is necessary to ensure proper digestion, and to get the most out of what we eat. They point to experiments carried out in an English nursery school, where it was found that 25 to 35 minutes is required for a meal for young children. The authorities also advise eating in serenity, with a minimum of clatter and chatter.

LODGE ELECT OFFICERS

At the regular meeting of Crow's Nest Chapter of the IODE held on Feb. 11, officers elected for 1947 were:

Regent, Mrs. David Kemp, Jr.
1st Vice-R, Mrs. Chas. Hughson.
2nd Vice-R, Mrs. H. Carmichael.
Secretary, Mrs. C. R. Gilman.
Treasurer, Mrs. A. Doucay, Jr.
Educational Sec., Mrs. Fraser.
Echoes Sec., Mrs. A. Bourne.
Standard Bearer, Mrs. Jas. Gray.
Emergency Sec., Mrs. M. McKay.
Assistant Em. Sec., Mrs. J. Patterson.

HILLCREST HAPPENINGS

Miss Clara Emery, of Calgary, is visiting old friends in town. She was the guest last week of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Cruickshank and this week of Mr. and Mrs. F. McDougall.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Porteous left last Saturday for Cardston, to raise their son who is employed there. They were accompanied by their granddaughter Lorraine.

Mrs. C. Pitt is teaching Grade 1, in place of Mrs. Wisniewski, who resigned at the end of February.

RECIPE FOR HAPPINESS

Health enough to make work a pleasure.
Wealth enough to support my needs.
Strength enough to battle with difficulties and overcome them.
Grace enough to confess my sins and forsake them.
Patience enough to toil until some good is accomplished.
Charity enough to see some good in my neighbor.
Love enough to move me to be useful and help others.
Faith enough to make real the things of God.
—Wichita Round and Round.

Considerable improvement has been made in the town office, making it more comfortable for the staff these cold days. The general counter has been partitioned by glass to the ceiling leaving two wickets through which business is transacted.

WHITE ON BLACK NEW ALBERTA LICENSE PLATES

The 1947-48 Alberta motor license plates, with white numerals on a black background, have been received in Edmonton and will go on sale toward the end of the month, according to Maj. R. C. Arthur, deputy provincial secretary.

Definite date for the opening of distribution of the plates will be announced soon, he said.

As during the war years, motorists again will receive only the one plate to be attached to the rear of the vehicle.

APPRECIATION

February 28, 1947.
Calgary, Alberta,

Mr. J. R. McLeod,
Blairmore Graphic,
Blairmore, Alberta.
Dear Mr. McLeod:

At the conclusion of the most successful Christmas Seal campaign in our history, I feel that I should let you know at once how very grateful we are for the assistance we received from you and your organization.

Our $100,000 objective was realized, with a few dollars to spare. We have come a long way since the winter of 1942-3, when only $23,000 was raised in the whole province. It heartens and stimulates us to work harder and harder to defeat tuberculosis, when we know that the people of the province are so solidly behind us. Over 60,000 individual contributions made up the $100,000 total.

Please accept our sincere thanks.
Faithfully yours,
ERIC CONNELLY,
President.

DUKES TAKE IT—IN THE POCKET

Calgary Arena—Dukes returned home Tuesday from Lethbridge after taking it on the score sheet and in the pocket in the deciding contest of the southern Alberta intermediate hockey final with Coleman Grands.

A "crowd" of 90 paying customers attended the third-game contest.

Dukes and Coleman were each asked to produce $5.73 to make up the deficit to the rink—which they did—in addition to paying all their own travelling, eating and living expenses. "And," said manager Tommy "Ace" Malcolm, "even the poor old Alberta Amateur Hockey Association suffered on the deal. It only got $4.60 profit out of the game."—Calgary Alberman.

THREE MEN HELD FOR TWO HOLDUPS

Three men are being held by RCMP here on a warrant from the Lethbridge police charging them with armed holdup in Lethbridge early Friday morning, and also in connection with another holdup at Blairmore earlier the same day. They were arrested in Calgary Saturday night.

Leland Madison, 24, Neil Billingsley, 25, and Robert S. Graham, 25, were taken into custody in local hotels. Detectives Ken Melver and Bruce McCannel, of the city police, arrested Billingsley, while RCMP detectives Cpl. T. A. Horne and Constable W. F. G. Perry arrested the others. Two loaded Luger revolvers believed to have been used were also discovered.

The three men are charged with having held up a man and woman in Lethbridge, two of the men carrying revolvers, and having stolen $30 from them. The case at Blairmore was a holdup of two women in their home by three men who entered and took $80 at gun point.—Calgary Herald.

City police and RCMP headquarters in Lethbridge confirmed Monday afternoon the arrest in Calgary of Madison, Billingsley and Graham. The city police hold warrants for their arrest in connection with the armed holdup of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Doregard, Feb. 27 about 4:30 a.m. The couple reside in the southeast part of the city and reported to police they had been robbed of $31 at their home.

At 1 a.m. on the same date Edna Wilson of Blairmore was held up at Blairmore and robbed of $80 and the two jobs have been linked, police getting a description of two of the men wanted in connection with the holdups.

The trio were arrested by the RCMP in Calgary following offences committed in the Calgary area. Subsequent investigation linked the trio with the Lethbridge and Blairmore jobs and warrants were issued for their arrest. They will be returned to Blairmore and Lethbridge to stand trial.—Lethbridge Herald.

NICE TEETH

Reminder that teeth which look healthy may require minor overhaul is issued from Ottawa. National Health authorities, declaring that the importance of clean, strong teeth cannot be overemphasized, advise all health-conscious people to see their dentist, whether they believe they need oral treatment or not. In this way, it is pointed out, many little incipient troubles may be averted, saving time, expense and pain later. This injunction is particularly important at a time when dentists are fully occupied, since oral examination will normally be brief and work-saving in the long run.

Warble Grubs Cost Farmers Millions

Countless millions of warble fly grubs have begun their annual campaign against beef and dairy cattle in Canada. Unless controlled by the application of rotenone wash or spray they will do many millions of dollars damage to hides, and substantially lower milk and meat production. Now is the time for farmers to arrange to apply the wash during the next three months. The nearest Dominion Experimental Farm or the County Agricultural Representative will advise on how to apply the insecticide. Power spraying machinery for applying the wash is presently in short supply. Orders for such machinery to be used in 1948 should be placed with the manufacturers without delay. Here is shown a power sprayer being used to kill warble grubs and insect a warble grub which has emerged from the back of a cow.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Please Don't Tell My Daddy

By MATTHEW F. CHRISTOPHER

THE only way to do anything is to go ahead and do it, my daddy used to say. And my daddy is a wonderful guy, Miss Evans. He's the best daddy in the world, and I know that. The reason I'm writing this letter to you—because of my daddy. I'm writing to you because I don't want to hurt him. And I know you can help me, if you want to.

You will, won't you, Miss Evans? I'm ashamed to admit a nasty thing, but I know I've been a trouble maker in school. Daddy doesn't know it, though. At least, he never let on to me. I could kick myself a million times, but it won't do any good now. It would be like crying over spilled milk.

You've given me a good scolding many a time, but I remember the last one mostly, because it was only yesterday, just before arithmetic class.

I had forgotten to do my arithmetic lesson. I was glancing through the problems and seen that if I started on them now I wouldn't get these problems solved before class would begin. So I slipped a note to Mary Jane behind me, asking her if she'd let me take her copy. Mary Jane is the smartest girl in the class, and we're pretty good friends, so she let me take it.

All the time, we made sure you weren't looking. You were sitting at your desk, and I guess you were pretty much absorbed in correcting some papers, because you didn't bother to look up.

I started copying her work, and believe me, Miss Evans, I really felt guilty doing it. I felt like a traitor. I was sure I could have done the problems myself, if I had the time, because arithmetic is one of my easiest subjects.

But I couldn't do the assignment anyway, and when I started to slip the papers back to Mary Jane, that's when you looked up. Your eyes met mine first thing, then moved to the "papers in my hand."

I didn't know what to do with myself, then, I was so scared. "Shamed, too, I suppose. I didn't know whether to drop the papers on Mary Jane's desk, or whether to put them back on mine. I guess you know how I felt.

Well, you know what I did, because you told me to do it. "Dickie," you said, "please bring those papers here to me. I'll handle them. I'll take them to the principal's office, and I'll make sure they're not traced back to you. You're safe now, Dickie."

"Oh, no, sir," I said. I know I should have said "No, ma'am," but I didn't think of it then. "I've never copied anybody's work before," I said. And that's the truth. I explained everything to you and I thought you were going to get very mad at me. But you didn't. I said please not to punish Mary Jane because it was all my fault, and you said you would help me. "All right, but you must learn never to copy someone else's work, Dickie. I'm sorry, but you are going to stay in school tonight, and do your arithmetic lesson."

You know what that meant as well as I did. It meant that I would miss my bus—and I live three miles from school. That's a long walk when it's winter and snowing.

I admit I got sore, but I went back to my desk as if it was nothing. When the bell rang for the end of the school day everybody left, but you and me. I started working on my lesson, and I never looked up at you once. I was mad clean through.

I was hardly through with my second problem when you said "Dickie," I looked up. "Dickie," you said, and you were smiling a little. "get your work together and take it home with you. You're leaving now."

"I mean it," you said, and you were still smiling. "You better hurry, if you want to catch the bus."

"Well, I hurried, and I caught the bus despite the deep snow. I never said anything to the kids, but all the way home I thought of how awful you were, and I'm ashamed I should be to do things that make you sore. I never told daddy about that, either. I almost told him a couple of times while he was helping me on my model plane after supper, but I didn't. Finally, he said:

"It's your bed-time, son. You want to get up fresh and ready for school, don't you? And I said, 'Sure, daddy,' and went to my room. I guess I was half asleep when I fell asleep. I crawled quietly out of bed and put my ear close to the door to listen. And that was when I heard you saying to daddy:

"I'm sure that Dickie and I can get along swell together, Dick. I have a feeling that he likes me, and I like him. I like him very much. Matter of fact, probably as much as I love his father."

You laughed then, and daddy said, "I thought I'd better not tell him about us right away, but I suppose now it'll be all right. I'm sure you'll be a wonderful mother to him. And he's a good son to you. He's a good boy. But who should know better than you? You're his teacher. You know him better than I am."

You see?

Please don't tell my daddy, will you, Miss Evans?

SECRET ADMIRER OF GRETA GARBO LEAVES HER MONEY

ALLIGAN, Mich.—A British-born recluse with a secret admiration for Greta Garbo has left his entire estate, valued at $20,000, to the Swedish film actress.

Author of the will was Edgar H. Donne, 70, whose death at his squalid one-room farm shack near here last October went unnoticed for several days.

Donne stipulated that his land, securities, jewelry, cash and other property be given to "Greta Lovisa Gustafson, screen actress known as Greta Garbo, to her and no other."

Hopefully, the will added that "if Greta Garbo becomes my wife then it goes to Greta Lovisa Gustafson."

Papers he left also disclosed that he once sent a letter to the actress, which was returned and stamped "refused."

Years ago—Mrs. Luna does not know just when—Donne bought some new clothes and set out for Hollywood. He returned a short time later and never discussed the trip to neighbors, who said they saw him infrequently.

State Public Administrator Archie C. Fraser said the state was investigating to learn whether Donne was of sound mind, but added that "on the face of it, the will appears to be all right."

An unnamed genius has figured that if match sticks were shortened one-quarter of an inch 380 car loads of lumber would be saved in a year.

Probably he is not in position to order the change, therefore it is not necessary to beware of him. But we must always beware of his kind, those who tell the part of the story that favors their proposition but say nothing of the difficulties that would attend its adoption, or imposition.

The match pattern is merely typical, a minor pattern of the effects of regulation. That such a change would have many hurried fingers and accompanying unfortunate remarks is not important. But that it would require changes in all the machinery that make the matches and in those that make the boxes in which they are packed is important.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

GARDEN NOTES

Lawn Work Early. One of the very first on-the-land jobs in the spring is lawn work, especially the patching and general cleaning up of established lawns. One can start this job almost as soon as the last snow is gone. Grass seed may be broadcast in cool weather.

For patching and new lawns, too, experts advise getting a good grade of lawn grass, which will be a mixture of various sorts of grasses designed to make growth quickly and stay green year after year. For patching, the bare spots should be thoroughly stirred with a rake, then seeded rather heavily. Covering with brush or wire will protect from the birds.

Fairly early in the spring is the best time to apply commercial fertilizer, which should be spread according to directions and preferably just before a rain, which will wash it in and prevent burning. Too often the average lawn is regarded as some permanent fixture which should take care of itself. As a result it soon shows wear and tear, and eventually may produce more plantain, dandelion and other weeds than grass.

Good lawns are fed regularly with fertilizer, are rolled early in the spring when the ground is soft.

Improving the Soil. Ideal garden soil is loose, open and on the light side, a mixture of sand, clay and rotted vegetable material. That combination is rather rare under natural conditions. However, poor soil can be gradually changed into something more suitable. The best general corrective is plenty of rotted manure or vegetable refuse such as rotted sods, green crops, turned in. Cultivation alone will work wonders after a year or two. All weeds, vegetable tops, grass clippings, etc., should be dug in and it possible a load or two of manure.

Commercial fertilizer should be used carefully, according to directions. During the war some marvelous new fertilizers and beneficial bacteria have been developed.

Vegetable Plans. Planning the vegetable garden will be simple. Little and quick-growing things like radish, spinach and lettuce can be planted in rows a foot apart when one is going to cultivate by hand. Carrots, beets, beans and little larger and grow more slowly. Minimum space here would be about 15 inches—a rather more for the larger beans. Peas can be planted in double rows about a foot apart, then twice that much space will be needed for double row. Tomatoes require at least 18 inches when staked, and three feet if not staked. Corn rows at least 30 inches apart, the same for potatoes. Melons, cucumbers and small table squashes do best in hills about 30 inches square and eventually 15 inches high. Space between hills should be at least 15 inches to allow for spreading and cultivation.

Ont. Inspector Robert Johnson suggests the dog was trying to prove his traces of husky blood by getting out on such a cold porch. The dog was turned over to the Toronto Humane society to thaw out.

Health LEAGUE OF CANADA presents TOPICS OF VITAL INTEREST

MORE ABOUT COLDS!

Since the vast majority of people "catch" at least one cold every year, the interest in the subject never dies. Health News has been delving into the subject again and after perusing information supplied by Cleveland's Division of Health, Toronto's Department of Public Health, and the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, we give you the following conclusions:

The "common cold" is an inflammation of the mucous membrane which lines the nose and throat. The primary cause is a living disease agent called a virus which is too small to be seen under a microscope. Then after 24-28 hours, a secondary invader becomes apparent. This invader is made up of a variety of bacteria.

Chilling, wet feet, drafts, damp clothing, exposure to bad weather, and violations of sound dietary and other hygienic rules often help to lower the body's resistance so that the cold virus and other disease-producing germs that are constantly present in the nose, the throat, and the mouth can easily invade the body tissues. Also, the overheated, dry air of homes and offices in winter can damage the delicate mucous membrane lining of nose and throat, thus giving the cold virus a chance.

Colds are dangerous—and in the case of children, the younger the child the more dangerous the cold. They frequently may be followed by more serious illness such as influenza, pneumonia and tuberculosis.

Colds Are Catching. The cold virus present in the mouth and nose secretions of infected individuals may be transmitted to others when the infected person sprays infected particles into the air as a result of talking, coughing or sneezing.

Yes, colds are definitely catching. Other means of transmission from infected to non-infected include kissing, use of unwashed or poorly washed eating utensils, towels, handkerchiefs. Or, they may be picked up from objects that an infected person has sneezed on or handled. Hand-shaking is another means of transmission.

Take Precautions. Here are a few precautions you can take to avoid catching a cold:

1—Eat well-balanced meals, including milk and fats, green vegetables, fruits, meat and other proteins.

2—Get plenty of rest.

3—Keep rooms well ventilated. Take no chances of overheating or chilling the body. Wear clothing suitable for the weather.

4—Wash hands often, especially before eating. When caring for patients who have colds, sterilize their eating utensils and drinking cups.

5—If You Catch A Cold

1—Be thoughtful—stay at home to protect others and yourself—cover coughs and sneezes. Start treatment at first sign of a cold.

2—Rest in bed.

4—Destroy tissues or sterilize handkerchiefs contaminated with nose or throat discharges.

5—Do not return to work too soon.

6—Consult a physician immediately if fever, body-aches or weakness occur, or if coughing or mucous from the chest occurs.

An added reason for never neglecting colds and influenza in the case of a child—is that measles, whooping cough, scarlet fever and diphtheria often start off as apparently simple colds.

WANTED—A Depression

"I am longing for another depression, so we can get caught up on the things we need again. When our former depression was at its worst, we had meat on the table every day; four was 85c for a 50-pound sack. We had so much pork that we ate until we started to get fat and then buried the surplus in the ground."

A woman could buy a dress that would cover her knees for 95c, and a young fellow could dress up like Van Johnson for about $13.50. If we didn't like the house we were living in, we rented another at $10 or $15 a month.

"The Relief was handing out oranges and grapefruit and clothing, and what have you. The garbage men thought they had the best job in town, and the miners would strike if John L. Lewis told them to."

"Yes, we have bigger pay checks than ever before. We have more money in the bank than ever before. We pay more taxes than ever before and get less. We get paid more for doing less. We know more and use the knowledge less."

"During the depression there wasn't work enough for everybody, but those who did work produced enough for everybody. Now everybody has a job but we can't buy what we need because it isn't produced."

"That's why I'm longing for another depression, so that we can get caught up on the things we need."

SUITABLE MEAL. The jury had been locked up for hours. One of the jurors had refused to agree to the view of the others. At last the officer of the court was instructed to provide refreshment.

"Shall I order 12 dinners?" he asked. "No, sir," replied the juror. "Make it 11 dinners and a bale of hay" replied the weary foreman. To the foreman.

SACRED BOOKS. Books are considered sacred by certain tribes of central Tibet. These people regard books as the source of all knowledge and go so far as to worship them.

THOSE FANCY NAMES

That a world made up entirely of public relations counselors, tacticians, morticians and suchlike may be a present hazard, is the large implication of a minor happening in a small Sussex village, as recorded by The Times, of London. There a chimney sweep has started calling himself a flunomist and upped his fee sixpence.

As a practicing alarmologist, we view the occurrence with the appropriate emotion. The business of putting fancy names to plain occupations has no end to it this side of Babel. The ordinary citizen—or votician, as we suppose he will have to be known—is at the mercy of every huckster who wants to refer to himself as a pedologist, every ditch-digger who chooses to term himself a digician.

The whole trouble, of course, comes about when people get the mistaken notion that their occupation is not dignified enough for them—particularly when they come to the conclusion that the way out is to dignify it by what they call it rather than by the way they perform it. For our part, we should prefer to see the day arrive when the dignity of every honest occupation would be so well established that The Times, of London, could report that a pigmentomician had started calling himself a house painter and doubled his price, and was having no difficulty whatever getting it.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

"I hear Albert was held up on the way home last night."

"That's the only way he could have gotten home."

"How far down do you want to sit?" asked the ticket man of a woman at the box office window.

"Why, all the way, of course," she snapped.

FEELING FIT

When truly well, a person is generally unconscious of the bodily processes, but, say the health experts, twinges and aches turn thoughts to the vital organs and their functions, and make people acutely aware of themselves.

In taking stock of the system, authorities urge that only thoroughly qualified medical people be allowed to make the overhaul and prescribe the treatment which may be indicated.

CARBON MONOXIDE

Dangers from gases and fumes created by burning fuel are noted by the national health authority. It is pointed out that headaches and dizziness in the presence of such fumes may be signals for prompt action.

Health authorities point out that ventilation is the best safeguard against carbon monoxide which often comes undetected. They recommend periodic checking of furnace pipes and drafts, and warn against leaving gasoline motors running indoors, without proper ventilation. At the first sign of carbon monoxide poisoning, a doctor should be summoned.

DAFFYNITIONS

Woman: A person who reaches for a chair when she answers the telephone.

Bore: A person who when you ask him "How are you?" tells you.

Parent: One who spansks one end of a child believing that will cure trouble originating at the other end.

Gold Digger: A human gimme pig.

Eachelor: A man who won't take "yes" for an answer.

Home: A place where part of the family waits until the rest of the family brings back the car.

Two glamorous girls boarded a crowded streetcar, and one of them whispered to the other: "Watch me embrace a seat from one of the men!"

Pushing her way through the standees, she bore down on a gentleman who looked substantial and embarrasable.

"My dear Mr. Brown," she gushed loudly, "Fancy meeting you on the car. Am I glad to see you. Why you're almost a stranger. My I'm tired!"

The sedate gent looked up at the girl, whom he'd never seen in his life before, and he rose, said pleasantly and for all to hear: "Sit down, Bertha, my girl. Don't often see you on washday. No wonder you're tired. By the way, don't deliver the washing till Wednesday. My wife is going to the district attorney's office to see whether she can get your husband out of jail."—G. N. Goats.

WHO SAYS YOU CAN'T ?

Can't save? But you did, all through the war, with your purchases of Victory Bonds.

So that takes care of any doubts you may have had about being able to set up a saving plan, and stick to it. Now the trick is to find a substitute for that win-the-war incentive which made you buy more bonds than you ever thought you could. And it has to be a reason so compelling that you'll say "No" without a tremor whenever you are tempted to spend money you shouldn't.

What more compelling reason could you ask than you, your family, and all your secret hopes and plans?

After all, the most important part of your earnings is what you save for yourself and your own purposes. Even though you never touch your Victory Bonds or other savings, the mere fact that they are there makes all the difference. You are less vulnerable to unforeseen set-backs—better able to do something about it if opportunity comes along. You enjoy greater peace of mind.

These are satisfactions you can't measure in dollars and cents. But dollars and cents—deposited regularly in your Royal Bank Savings Account—can give them to you.

Next time you're going over your personal budget, ask yourself: "Am I getting my share of my income?"

Training For 40,000 Men Of Reserve Forces

OTTAWA.—Defence Minister Chastan announced that the training program for reserve forces of the three Canadian services would involve 40,000 men this year.

The new, single Royal Canadian Naval Reserve, with a strength of 1,936 officers and men, would recruit and train 4,300, including university training divisions. The reserve army would train its current strength of 30,000 and add training for 3,000 tradesmen. The air force auxiliary would organize 10 of an authorized 15 squadrons with a proposed strength of 2,600.

The minister said the amount provided for reserve force training in the forthcoming estimates would exceed the 1939 total by more than four times.

Training would be adequate to meet the needs of the majority of units. The program, further, "will be flexible enough so that as far as possible training will be in line with the capacity of different units to make full use of that training."

Full-time administrative and technical officers from the active forces would be attached to reserve units. Complete sets of clothing, including boots, and the most modern equipment available would be provided.

SUGAR RATION IS NOT CHANGED YET

OTTAWA.—The prices board is keeping alert to the possibility of making more sugar available to rationed consumers when and if extra supplies become available, a spokesman said.

However, no immediate increase in the ration is planned on the basis of a Washington announcement that Canada will receive approximately 88 or 87 pounds of sugar per capita in 1947 compared with 73 pounds last year, by allocation under the international emergency food council.

"We will have to wait until we get it," the official said. The 1947 crop still was being produced and there was no guarantee that estimated supplies would match the actual output.

This Horse Did Not Show Horse-Sense

EVESHAM, England.—A municipally-owned horse with an appetite for picnic lunches and a strong dislike for picnickers finally ran afoul of the law for kicking a fisherman while reaching for a sandwich.

Richard Delaney, the fisherman, collected $149.50 damages from the mayor and town of Evesham, Worcester-shire, after testifying that his scalp was split open when he tried to rescue his lunch basket from the nag.

Several witnesses testified to the horse's bad record where sandwiches were concerned. J. Stephens of Evesham said he had seen the horse raid picnic parties several times and eat their sandwiches.

Once he saw the horse stick his nose into a fisherman's basket and, finding no sandwiches, push the man into the river.

In granting damages Judge T. W. Langman blamed the horse's "fierce disposition" and not the shortage of sandwiches.

QUEEN ELIZABETH CLIPS AN OSTRICH

LÉROUX, South Africa.—The British royal party visited an ostrich farm where Queen Elizabeth clipped a few pounds of feathers.

"I knew she was good at clipping but I didn't know she knew about ostriches," King George quipped.

Princess Elizabeth and Princess Margaret stood in the background and laughingly watched their parents clip a 15-month-old bird held in the regular clipping rack on the farm.

Princess Margaret had telegraphed the farm that she wanted to see an ostrich chick and she and Princess Elizabeth inspected 10 of them.

TRAWLERS DEFY UNION ORDERS

VANCOUVER.—Thirty owners and crew members of other trawlers here defied orders of the A.F.L. United Fishermen's union to halt fishing until fishing companies accepted a 1947 higher price contract.

The dissident group announced a meeting would be held to organize an independent union.

William Rigby, secretary of the A.F.L. union, plans to meet a committee from the group. It was reported companies refused to accept the agreement because it contained a closed shop clause.

Plans To Ensure Farmers Of A Wheat Market

OTTAWA.—The government plans to ensure western farmers of a market for 310,000,000 bushels of wheat in each of the three crop years between now and 1950, Trade Minister MacKinnon told the commonsense he concluded a lengthy debate on the administration's wheat policies.

This, he said, was behind the government's guarantee to the farmers that their deliveries during those three years would not be less than 14 bushels an authorized acre.

However, since this minimum provision had been misunderstood by some members, Mr. MacKinnon added, he proposed to have it deleted from the bill. This would not alter the intent of the government to ensure such marketings.

The 310,000,000-bushel annual market would take care of an annual wheat production of approximately 400,000,000 bushels of wheat up to the end of the third crop year ending July 31, 1950. This year's production was 420,000,000 bushels.

Mr. MacKinnon, speaking on second reading of a bill to continue the Canadian wheat board as the sole buying and selling agency of Canada's wheat crops up to 1950, was the second minister to speak in defence of the government's wheat policies and the board's methods of operation.

Earlier, Agriculture Minister Gardiner answered Progressive Conservative criticism of the Anglo-Canadian wheat agreement and said he thought western farmers generally were "well satisfied" with government marketing of their wheat.

He also disclosed that Denmark, Holland, Belgium, Norway and France had expressed interest in negotiating agreements similar to the contract with Britain but said that up to now none had made proposals along the lines of that treaty.

Mr. MacKinnon, continuing the defence at the night sitting, asserted that the government, through its policies, had gone a long way towards bringing the producers a "very substantial measure of security."

He said he wished to deny that the government, through the bill before the house, was seeking to give the Canadian wheat board power to handle the marketing of all other grains as well as wheat.

Toucing on the payment of wheat participation certificates, by which farmers share in the profits of wheat board operations, Mr. MacKinnon said the board planned to begin payment of certificates on the 1944 crop this summer. Payment of 1945 certificates still was being made and was complicated by the fact many farmers were slow in making application.

WILL BE CONSIDERED

OTTAWA.—Trade Minister MacKinnon said in the commonsense he was "quite sure" consideration would be given to increasing the price of eggs to offset a recent jump in the price of wheat used to feed poultry.

Immigration Figures Show Sharp Increase

OTTAWA.—Bolstered by arrival of an estimated 50,000 war brides and children, immigrants to Canada last year numbered 71,719 persons representing nearly every major race and nation in the world.

As government officials continued to consider a policy based on further relaxation of regulations the resources department released figures showing the 1946 immigration was more than three times the 22,722 persons admitted in 1945.

With increased quotas already set for certain categories of dependents and for persons entering specific trades or professions, Canadians could look to a continuing heavy stream of new arrivals in 1947.

Largest single place of origin last year was the United Kingdom with 51,408, and smallest were Moravia and Japan with one each.

Highlighting lists of immigrants from the United States—11,469 last year compared with 6,349 in 1945—was the rapidly increasing number of Canadians returning home after living south of the border.

Nearly half Canada's immigrants gave Ontario as their destination. The provincial totals:

Nova Scotia, 4,604; New Brunswick, 3,465; Prince Edward Island, 586; Quebec, 9,712; Ontario, 29,604; Manitoba, 4,815; Saskatchewan, 4,711; Alberta, 5,771; British Columbia, 8,619; Yukon, 20; Northwest Territories, 8; not given, 4.

By sexes—and here the war brides showed their numbers—there were 9,934 adult males, 40,818 adult females and 20,967 children under 18.

EMPRESS AT OPERA.—Empress Farzwa of Iran, sister of King Farouk of Egypt, is pictured as she attended a command performance of "The Barber of Seville" at the Cairo Opera House. Her beauty shared the spotlight with the event.

There now are more than 26,000 diamond cutters widely scattered throughout the world.

RESIGNS.—Lord Wavell, who recently resigned as viceroy of India, has been succeeded by Lord Louis Mountbatten. The appointment of Lord Mountbatten was announced at the same time as the intention of Britain to quit India in June of next year.

Eire Faces Her Gravest Crisis

—More Rationing

DUBLIN.—Eire, which emerged almost unscathed from war, now is facing an unprecedented crisis.

Bread—unrationed during the war—has been cut to six ounces weekly. Butter is down to the bare British ration level of two ounces weekly. Sugar has been reduced to half a pound a week.

Fuel supplies are so reduced that in Dublin thousands of citizens are without fire and gas, electricity companies are urging the most stringent economy, and industry is facing its gravest crisis.

Of all the trials that have come to Eire, the fuel predicament is the most serious. In pre-war days, both homes and industry depended on British coal. When war slashed imports to a bare minimum required to maintain essential industries, the country turned to the bogs and throughout the war, Eire subsisted uneconomically and uncomfortably on turf.

Last year's turf-cutting season was unusually wet and the amount of turf stored in state-controlled open-air dumps was lower than previously. The Arctic weather which halted British coal distribution and led to a ban on export coal also killed the last hopes of Eire turf supplies being sufficient to meet demands until the new producing season begins in the summer.

When Mercer arrived the owner said: "I've been warming her up since I phoned."

United States Expects Drop In Food Prices

WASHINGTON.—The United States agriculture department discounted talk of $1-a-pound pork chops with an assertion that housewives won't stand for it.

Skyrocketing hog prices in the United States merely reflect a seasonal decline in marketable animals, said Charles L. Harlan, department livestock price specialist.

And he told a reporter he expects consumer resistance—which means housewives with their dander up—to force a downturn in those prices soon.

Department economists held to their contention that food price levels reached their post-war peak last October, after most government controls were removed.

Some American foods already have declined in cost since the first of the year and further decreases are expected. In this class are fluid milk, butter, cheese, evaporated milk, dry milk, eggs, poultry, fresh and frozen fish, fresh and processed vegetables, and canned fruits.

The department's economics bureau, in a recent food situation report, predicted a downturn in prices of better grades of beef in the spring and summer, when marketings of cattle now on grain feed should increase.

With large slaughter in prospect, prices of all cattle are likely to decline more than seasonally in the second half of the year, especially in late 1947, the report said.

Grain prices have increased somewhat in recent weeks under the impact of a heavy foreign demand. But officials expect a reaction when the 1947 winter wheat crop—now being forecast as the largest on record—is harvested in the spring and early summer.

DATE FOR SCHOOL CLOSING DELAYED

OTTAWA.—Closing of the pre-matriculation courses for veterans in the Prince Albert, Sask., vocational training school will be delayed from March 31 to April 15, Labor Minister Mitchell said in the commonsense.

Mr. Mitchell was replying to questions asked earlier in the session by John Diefenbaker (P.C., Lake Centre) and Walter Tucker (Lib., Rosthern).

The minister said all of the pre-matriculation students except 14 would have finished their courses by March 31, and it would be expensive to keep the courses going for this number. However, the discontinuance date would be delayed to April 15, by which time only those requiring some months of training would have to be removed to the Saskatoon school.

There was housing accommodation for the pupils who would be transferred, Mr. Mitchell said.

Russia Endorses U.S. Trusteeship Over Jap-Mandated Islands

WASHINGTON.—State Secretary Marshall said Russia has advised the United States that the Soviet government feels an American trusteeship over the Japanese-mandated islands in the Pacific would be "entirely fair."

Marshall told a press conference that Soviet note said Russia took into account that the islands were won chiefly by American armed forces which bore "incomparably greater sacrifices" than others in the Pacific advance.

"GRAND HOTEL" OPERATES BY CANDLELIGHT.—The power shut-off, necessitated by Britain's fuel shortage, put famed Grosvenor hotel in London into a dimout worse than any endured during the war. The head porter is checking the register by candlelight here. Shut-down of British industries through lack of power has thrown some 5,000,000 persons out of work.

A Message to CITY AND TOWN EXECUTIVES

Larger cities and towns are discovering that parking is developing into a serious problem. In many places, parking on main streets and highways obstructs traffic, discourages shopping, and increases the hazard to both motorists and pedestrians.

Our study of this problem indicates that the solution lies in providing OFF-STREET PARKING accommodation — convenient for citizens and attractive to visitors.

We respectfully suggest that municipal councils and other public bodies give consideration to solving this problem in the interests of their communities. The A.M.A. will be glad to furnish all information it has available on this subject.

Don Graham Comments on EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

"Isn't it good to see how well young Henry is getting along," I said to his uncle. "Yes, it is a great satisfaction. He served as his father did and now, since he came back, he has taken hold and I believe he is making more progress than any young fellow in town. He is a lot like his father was, full of ambition with a knack of sizing things up and profiting from the experience of others."

"I've been glad, too, to see that in him. He has half a dozen of the best men in town interested in him. He gets their good advice. He was wise when he consulted a trained man and took out the life insurance he needs. It's the foundation of his future."

"The officials of life insurance companies are like the men who advise Henry. They are leaders who know how to invest wisely in progress."
